Capital and surplus/assets ratio

The capital and surplus/assets ratio measures a company's cushion protecting it from a decline in the value of its assets before surplus is depleted. Higher levels of capital and surplus relative to assets help support operations and growth. The statutory surplus levels of Ameritas Life Insurance Corp. and Ameritas Life Insurance Corp. of New York exceed Standard & Poor's capital requirements at the AAA rating level.²

Ameritas had $2.3 billion of statutory basis total adjusted capital as of Dec. 31, 2024,³ ending the period with a capital and surplus/assets ratio of 9.7% – well above the industry average of 8.7%⁴ and comparing favorably to our peers. This represents extremely strong capital which, along with low levels of financial leverage, demonstrates financial flexibility capable of addressing unforeseen market conditions.

Mutual companies generally hold more capital, as they do not have the access to just-in-time capital that stock companies do. For every $1.00 of capital held, Ameritas holds $10.26 in general account assets.
