

New Officers Join Ameritas Investment Corp.

October 29, 2013

Scott Fletcher recently joined Ameritas Investment Corp. (AIC) as senior vice president – capital markets. In this position, Fletcher is responsible for new growth and market development for AIC’s public finance business and will create a capital markets business unit for AIC.

Fletcher has more than 20 years of diverse experience in capital markets, including trading and risk management, real estate development, underwriting and portfolio management.

He earned his MBA in finance from the University of Missouri and his B.S. degree in business administration from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Heather Jansen joined AIC as vice president – retail sales. In this position, she leads all efforts to distribute AIC’s municipal bonds through the retail sales team. She is responsible for business development, all sales activity, and recruiting and training. In addition, Heather assists in client development and acquisition.

Jansen has more than 20 years experience in financial services and accounting. Most recently, she served 11 years as senior vice president – strategic development and chief financial officer for a broker dealer in Omaha. In this role, Jansen managed recruiting efforts, platform and product initiatives and rollouts as well as administrative functions, including compliance and service protocols. She also worked as a recruiter of financial professionals, serving as director of institutional sales for a local insurance marketing organization.

Securities offered through Ameritas Investment Corp. Member FINRA/SIPC.

-30-

Contact:
Scott Stuckey
Vice President – Corporate Communications
sstuckey@ameritas.com
402-467-7432