

Ameritas and RetireOne announce partnership to expand distribution

Lincoln, Neb. (May 23, 2017) – Ameritas Life Insurance Corp. (Ameritas) and RetireOne today announced an agreement to distribute Ameritas fee-based life insurance and annuity products through RetireOne’s Fiduciary Solutions Concierge desk, an innovative service platform offering advisors easy access and management on behalf of their clients.

The alliance connects fee-based registered investment advisors (RIAs) with the quality products and excellent customer service Ameritas is known for while capitalizing on the advantages the RetireOne platform provides.

"The RetireOne partnership is great for Ameritas because their team shares our core values in providing concierge, high touch, personalized service to registered investment advisors, combined with fee-based products that are fiduciary-friendly in design," said Thomas Fink, national vice president of institutional sales for Ameritas. "This is an exciting opportunity to broaden our outreach to the RIA community."

The agreement brings together RetireOne’s unique approach to providing ease of use and access to concierge assistance with the experience, industry knowledge and financial strength Ameritas provides.

David Stone, founder and chief executive officer for RetireOne, said he is thrilled with the expansion to include Ameritas. "We strive to work with the best providers and bring superior choices to our advisor clients' retirement planning with tax-deferred asset protection and sustainable lifetime income solutions," Stone said. "Ameritas' lengthy experience of delivering consumer value makes them a great partner."
